Welcome to AP Statistics!

In order to be successful in the course and on the AP exam next May, you need to begin learning about statistics now. To access the summer assignment, and to get the links to the online textbook, join the Google classroom for AP Statistics @ OB 2019 - 2020 using your BPS email address and the code kqxjk5x.

Assignment:

Over the summer, you are to read and complete Guided Chapter Notes on Chapters 1 – 6 in Stats, Modeling the World. These chapters cover key concepts that we will be using throughout the year in AP Stats. You are encouraged to spread out this work over the summer--do not wait until the end of the summer and cram the reading and notes in at the last minute. We want to position you for success. If you spend less than two hours on each chapter, you will be behind when we begin school in September.

1. After reading each chapter, print out and complete the corresponding chapter notes. Answer each question thoroughly. Your answers should be written in complete sentences, except when a bulleted list is indicated.
2. A printed copy of the assignment is due at the start of class on September 9, 2019, and will count as your first assessment grade of the year. Please email me with any questions.

You will find web codes for both the online textbook and accompanying videos in google classroom and below. The videos should support, not replace, your reading.

Textbook: phschool.com webcodes: aze-0641 for the text and lik-1000 for videos
